

COA Basketball Camp/Clinic

Level 1 or Level 2 IHSA Clinic

If you are looking for an affordable opportunity to improve your officiating skills and fulfill your IHSA Clinic requirement, consider attending the Central Officials Association clinic at Loyola Academy. The Clinic will include a classroom session led by IHSA Clinicians Josh Schroeder. Each Official will then officiate games being observed by Assignors and veteran officials offering advice and commentary to help you become a better official.

Assignors attending include: Chuck McNellis, Chicago Catholic League
Ken Maziarka, East Suburban Catholic Conference
Vernal Turner, Chicago Prep Conference

Veteran Officials include: Bill Neketis, Jim Copenhaver, Jerry Gibbons, Steve Honacki, Jim Sullivan, Dan Dyra, John Washo, Jeff Rutledge, Nitin Rao and others.

All officials must attend the classroom session on Sunday, June 10, 2018 at Loyola Academy beginning at 1:00 pm. Each official will then sign up to officiate games during the weeks of June 11, June 18 or June 25. These assignments will try to fit your schedule and put you in front of the assignors you want to see you work. Attending the clinic/camp does not guarantee you of any CCL, ESCC or any other games but will give you an opportunity to be seen by those assignors and improve your officiating skills.

Cost: $20 for COA members and $30 for non-COA members. Please complete a registration form and mail it along with a check payable to Mike Luzzi to
